TODAY'S READINGS

First Reading — My servant shall justify many, and their guilt he shall bear (Isaiah 53:10-11).

Psalm — Lord, let your mercy be on us, as we place our trust in you (Psalm 33).

Second Reading — Let us confidently approach the throne of grace to receive mercy and to find grace for timely help (Hebrews 4:14-16).

Gospel — Whoever wishes to be first among you will be the slave of all (Mark 10:35-45 [42-45]).

Pope Benedict XVI calls every Catholic in the world to celebrate our vocation to be missionary. It's World Mission Sunday!

As Catholics around the world — here at home and in the Missions — gather at the Eucharist around the table of the Lord, we are to pray for the Church's worldwide missionary work. We pray for those awaiting the "Good News" of our Lord's great love for us and for the missionaries who offer the poor and suffering the light of Christ. And we are to offer financial help through the Society for the Propagation of the Faith for more than 1,150 dioceses in Asia, Africa, Latin America and the Pacific Islands.

Your generosity is much appreciated!

FAZZination!

by Fr. Arnold Zamora

Every October of each year the priests of the Archdiocese of San Francisco go for a four-day retreat at the Vallombrosa Retreat Center in Menlo Park. The priests are divided into two groups and asked to go on one of two weeks. Fr. Nick, our parochial vicar, went on the first week. I went on the second week. A Mass is celebrated each day. On the week that I attended, Fr. Orimaco, a pastor from Half Moon Bay, celebrated the Mass on the first day of the retreat. On the second day, Bishop Justice, the Auxiliary Bishop of San Francisco, celebrated the Mass. And on the third day Archbishop Niederauer, San Francisco's Archbishop, celebrated the Mass. As you can see, there seemed to be a trend in the hierarchical order of presider. It looked like they were warming up for somebody. It follows that somebody greater than an Archbishop, maybe a Cardinal, should celebrate the final Mass. But guess what? the final Mass was celebrated by me! It didn't make sense to me at first considering I am just a neophyte, in my rookie year as a pastor. Then I realized that once you are assigned to Holy Name, by default, you are referred to as the "Holy Father!" I was humbled by the experience even before thinking of the honor that comes with it. "It was FAZZination (fascination), I know."

In other FAZZinating news this week is the upcoming concert of the Philippine Madrigal Singers this Friday, October 23 at 7:30 PM. They are often introduced as a world-renowned choir by the fact that they have won almost all the prestigious choral competitions in the world. In 1989 and 2007, the MADZ, as they are fondly called, won the prestigious European Grand Prix for Choral Singing. They are the only choir to win twice in what is known as the choral Olympics of the world. Fresh from a successful summer tour in Europe, the Philippine Madrigal Singers were given a singular honor in Paris as UNESCO Artist for Peace for 2009. I was once a member of this group, when I was pursuing my bachelor's degree in Music. I traveled with them extensively in Asia, Europe, Canada and the United States. Besides being the resident musical arranger for the group, I was also the in-house chaplain. On Sundays, whenever we could not find a Catholic Church in the area, we celebrated Mass in the hotel, in the living room of one of our hosts, or any suitable place; sometimes just an hour before our scheduled concert. I hope you won't miss this opportunity to listen and enjoy their music. If for some reason you cannot make it to the concert, you can hear them sing during the 11:30 am Mass next Sunday, October 24. By the way, they will be singing the National Anthem for the Oakland Raiders vs. Philadelphia Eagles game this Sunday, October 18.

TOO MUCH INFORMATION!

There is a common expression: "Too much information!" We usually use it when people tell us details about their lives that we don't want or need to know. Today, when James and John ask Jesus a simple question, making their request for places of honor in the kingdom, a simple answer might have been in order. Instead, as he often does, Jesus answers a question with a question; today it's about drinking the cup of suffering. Then, once the others are indignant over James and John's outrageous request, he proceeds to give them what may have been "too much information" for followers who were simply interested in the pursuit of glory. But this information, though it can sometimes seem "too much" for us, is essential for our lives as disciples. In Isaiah, in Hebrews, and in Mark today, we learn this information: it is in suffering, in weakness, in self-giving service to others, that we come to understand the kingdom. It is the information we need to find our place and come to be honored in the reign of God. © Copyright, J. S. Paluch Co.

OCTOBER 18

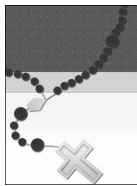

Twenty-Ninth Sunday in Ordinary Time

“The Son of Man did not come to be served but to serve and to give his life as a ransom for many.” We are reminded of the sacrifice the Lord Jesus made when he gave up his own life to save us from sin and death. He calls his followers to be like him: not to be served but to serve others. We are constantly bombarded with the false notion that we can never have too much of anything. So much in our society encourages us to be focused on self. In today’s Gospel we are summoned to reject this thinking and embrace a life of service to others. The letter to the Hebrews provides comfort and strength as we struggle to achieve this goal: “We do not have a high priest who is unable to sympathize with our weaknesses, but one who has similarly tested in every way, yet without sin.” Let us remember that in Christ we are never alone.

Name one way that God has strengthened you in time of weakness.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION PROGRAM

Dear Padre*Must we lend money?

My daughter is $30,000 in debt. On her last payday, a friend asked to borrow $600 for his house payment. My daughter lent him the money because she heard a reading in church that if you have money and your friend needs it, you should lend it. Is that what Jesus would have my daughter do in her current situation?

Ellen

Dear Ellen,

If your daughter had $600 she didn't need immediately and was quite sure her friend would pay it back in a timely fashion, then yes, it was good for your daughter to have lent the money in that situation. It's a sign of your daughter's generosity and kindness. But there are a lot of "ifs" in the above scenario. If someone had lent that money to your daughter and, because she then lent it to her friend, the lender was denied her payment in a timely fashion, your daughter shouldn't have lent the money.

Putting the question in simpler terms, if I have two chickens and I need only one for supper, and someone asks for something to eat, I should give him the extra chicken. But I needn't give away all that I have to feed the hungry, thus becoming hungry myself, so if I have only one chicken I don't have to give it away.

We're always called to be generous, but not at the expense of our own well-being. Lending money is a different issue because it seems everyone owes money. People have mortgages on their homes, loans on their cars, and debt on their credit cards. If your daughter is paying her debts in a timely fashion, she's not obligated to pay more, and she can continue to be generous.

FLU SEASON UPDATE*ACTION ITEMS

Recommended by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC)

#1. Take time to get a flu vaccination.

The yearly seasonal flu vaccine is available now. The H1N1 vaccine is being made, and will be available to you soon. The first to receive the vaccine will be higher risk groups like children, pregnant women, and people with chronic health conditions. Call your doctor's office to find out the procedure for getting your vaccination.

#2. Take everyday preventive actions.

Cover your nose and mouth with a tissue when you cough or sneeze, and throw the tissue away. In the absence of a tissue, use your sleeve. Wash your hands often with soap and water or use an alcohol-based hand sanitizer, especially after coughing or sneezing.

#3. Stay home when sick.

If you have symptoms of influenza-like illness, stay home until at least 24 hours after your temperature has returned to normal.

Gospel Summary

Unable to shed their understanding of hierarchy, the disciples continued to wonder who would be first in Jesus' Kingdom. Some disciples wondered where they would sit, in what order they would enter, and who would be greatest. In today's gospel, Zebedee's sons, James and John were wondering about such things. As he had before, Jesus tried to get the point across that order in God's Kingdom was unlike the order found in this world. In order to be first in the Kingdom of God, a person needed to serve others. Jesus gave the disciples an example of this service, but still they did not comprehend the message.

Reflection for Families

Parents are in the best position to live this gospel message in their own families. Parents have the most power, which makes it easy for children to recognize when they are being served. In simple, everyday actions, like getting our own drink of water, changing the television channel ourselves, or helping a child with his/her daily chores, children recognize their parents respect and appreciate them. Children also watch parent's actions to see how they serve others. We all know from our own experiences that the person we most admire is the one who helps us carry our load, not the one who adds to it.

Bringing the Gospel Into Your Family

Make plans as a family to serve someone else. Think of someone you know whose load is heavy right now. Maybe you know an elderly person in your neighborhood who might like to join you for dinner, or go for a ride. Perhaps there is someone sick or in a nursing home who would enjoy a visit from your family. Try to live this gospel on a regular basis. Each time you serve one person, think about what you will do next as a servant of God.

HOLY NAME SCHOOL

Dear Holy Name Families,

Thank you to all of the parents who attended the Parent Guild General Meeting. Thanks to Susanne Tilp, our educational therapist, who spoke about learning differences and what attributes to successful children.

Our second annual 8th grade Egg Drop will take place on Friday, October 16, in our gym. There will be two experiment sessions, 8A at 9:00 a.m. and 8B at 9:40 a.m. This is an educational and exciting activity for our students and for our audience. Come and see the thrill of victory and the agony of defeat.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Judy Cosmos
